Instructions for Completing Application

NOTE: Any application that includes the author's name or other identifying information in the application Introduction, Work Sample Index or on submitted work samples, will be ruled ineligible, and the application will not be forwarded to the panel for review.

Introduction

Applicants must provide an artist statement that gives a brief overview of your artwork, media, process, inspiration, influences, etc. Limit one page.

Performance Expectations

Artistic Excellence (100%)

- Technical proficiency
- Creativity
- Consistency of artistic voice

Consider your choice of work samples carefully in relation to the program Performance Expectations. Do not submit collaborative or student work, masters, originals or one-of-a-kind materials. Work samples will not be returned.

The emerging artist program uses a "blind jury" process, meaning the applicants' names are not revealed to the panel. Applicants must remove or block out names or other identifying information on all submitted work samples. Any application that includes the artist's name or image in the application Introduction, the Work Sample Index or on submitted work samples will be ruled ineligible and will not be forwarded to the panel for review.

Work samples must support the selected discipline and subdiscipline. Applicants must submit work completed within the past three calendar years (i.e., with an application deadline of Feb. 15, 2018, eligible work must have been created between January 1, 2015 and February 15, 2018.) Pay careful attention to the requirements for submitting work samples below.

Fiction, creative nonfiction, and poetry application work samples must not exceed 20 pages. Screen/playwriting work samples must not exceed 40 pages.

Fiction and creative nonfiction work samples must be double-spaced.

Poetry work samples are limited to no more than 20 poems. Poems may not be combined on a page.

Screen/playwriting work samples must not exceed 40 pages. Screen/playwriting samples must follow standard formatting.

Work samples must be submitted on 8.5-inch x 11-inch white paper with one inch margins all around and black text in 11- or 12-point font (Arial, Times New Roman, Calibri, or Courier New only).

Do not staple or bind work samples or any part of the application.

All applications must include a Work Sample Index with an entry for each work sample submitted. Do not combine multiple pieces of work in one work sample index. Do not include your name.
